1. The AVH buildings in Budapest covered by sketch [See Enclosure (A)] were completed in the spring of 1953.
2. Building No 1, 200 x 300 m, is surrounded by a brick wall three m high topped by 25 cm of barbed wire. There are watch towers at the four corners which are continually occupied. Within the closed area of this building there are tall structures, resembling distillation towers, whose purpose is unknown.
3. Building No 2 consists of one story, and is constantly watched by guards with machine-pistols.
4. Building No 3 (probably a munitions depot) is entered from the railroad line by three spur lines which terminate underground. This building is closed with iron doors, and is guarded by three armed guard posts. Traffic is lively and Soviets occasionally visit the place.
